Avoid the Jams, Charter a Chopper

Chartered Helicopter Flights From Atlas Helicopters Now Departing Daily To London

Regular visitors to London will know the pain of the daily commute and rue the wasted hours spent sitting in traffic and battling the crowds on public transport. Atlas Helicopters, the corporate helicopter charter specialists, are flying to the rescue of workers stuck in the jams with a cost effective and convenient helicopter charter service offering bespoke, timetabled helicopter flights to the Capital from the South of England.

With operational bases in Portsmouth, London, Biggin Hill, Redhill and Stapleford and a fleet of 4 x AS355 Twin Squirrels and 1 x Bell 206 LongRanger helicopters on standby, Atlas Helicopters' helicopter charter service is a fast, efficient and convenient way to arrive at important business meetings with time to spare. Used by clients needing to make regular trips to London as well as by businesses faced with the hassle of arranging last minute travel for unexpected meetings and events, each helicopter is comfortably equipped for last minute work en-route.

Captain Mike Burns, managing director of Atlas Helicopters said, "Helicopter charter is becoming increasingly popular, particularly as our roads become more congested and fuel and other related motoring costs increase. One of our aims at Atlas Helicopter's is to dispel the myth that corporate charter is an expensive undertaking so our service has been designed to be as seamless, stress free and offer as much value for money as possible."

The flight from Portsmouth takes just 30 via helicopter while travellers from Redhill can expect to be in London in just 10 minutes. Return flights are just as quick with dedicated arrival and departure staff to speed up the whole process. Even last minute meetings can be accommodated thanks to the Atlas Advantage programme which sees corporations pre-book flying hours via a unique membership scheme for use at any point throughout the year. This convenience is much like that of booking a car and driver or reserving a train ticket, putting helicopter charter within easy reach for even the smallest of companies wishing to transport their executives efficiently from A to B.
